Florida Grant Developers Network K-12

Florida Grant Developers
Network ~ K-12, Inc.

History

The Florida Grant Developers Network K-12 (FGDN K-12), Inc., a 501(c)6 educational association, was founded in 2004 by a small group of grant professionals working in public school districts in Florida. The FGDN K-12 provides a professional network to help K-12 grant developers learn and grow through specialized learning opportunities to share expertise, knowledge, and best practices in the field. The Network strives to meet the needs of Florida's grant developers and to ensure they are fully prepared to provide their superintendents and public school systems with the best possible counsel related to grants acquisition and administration, state and federal educational policy, community partnerships, and program planning and development. The Network today connects grant professionals throughout almost all of Florida's public school districts.

Membership is open to...

- ◇ Individuals having direct interest, currently, previously, or impending, in grant development and implementation activities from within K-12 public school systems in the state of Florida.

Benefits of Membership...

One of the key components of membership in FGDN K-12 is the ability to network with grant professionals across the state of Florida. Members connect anytime through the FGDN K-12 Listserv by posting questions and receiving timely support. Another benefit of membership is participation in FGDN K-12 forums conducted twice annually. The winter forum is a two-day conference with a concentration on grant professional development and best practices. The spring forum is a one-day event, typically held at the Florida Department of Education with a concentration on grant advocacy, forecasting, and legislative updates.
